PALOMA

Soft, natural and comfortable look and feel.

Paloma is slightly corrected and treated through a special process that refines its natural grain pattern, creating a unique texture, soft feel, and luxurious body. Grain structure and minor color nuances may vary across the furniture, and natural marks like healed scars and insect bites are also typical on more natural leather qualities like Paloma. We offer a wide color selection in this quality, from single tones to rich, two-tone shades, to suit diverse customer preferences. A light lacquer coating provides some protection and eases cleaning, though it is not as resistant and protected as our Batick leather quality.

Maintenance and cleaning

Vacuum the furniture regularly and wipe the surface with a damp cloth as needed. Remove spills immediately. If stains and dirt cannot be removed readily with a damp cloth, a cleaning agent from the Stressless® Leather Care Kit may be used.

We recommend that your leather furniture is cleaned and re-protected at least every six months with Stressless® Leather Care products.

Important to know about leather furniture

The leather for our furniture is a natural material that comes from cattle hides. One characteristic of hide is that it is marked by nature, vegetation, and the care the animal has been subjected to. Each hide is unique in its structure, appearance, nuances and size. Ekornes may use several hides when making your furniture. This, together with the leather's play of colours and natural marks, makes each piece of furniture unique. In time, the leather will age and develop a patina. Although leather furniture can withstand a lot of wear and tear, its appearance will change over the years.
